this issue of the philosophy of the city includes articles by scholars on a range of human sciences from media theory to aesthetics and architectural theory philosophy social ontology cultural anthropology aesthetics digital hermeneutics media theory cognitive science these are just some of the disciplines that contribute to the philosophy of the city this variety of approaches doesn't necessarily result in a chaotic mix many of the included forms of discourse belong to the same episteme which means there are many connections and overlaps this is true both in the literatures of reference and in the ways of answering the question of what the city is secondly the texts don't focus on the city itself but on those who live in design imagine and think about it thirdly because these texts create a place where different ideas can live together this is like a city where ideas change are built on and then rebuilt this is what Wittgenstein wrote about in his philosophical investigations the vast majority of mental health clinicians and researchers rely on diagnostic systems based on operational criteria however in their everyday practice many clinicians also pay attention to their own feelings or intuitions about the patient for an even greater number of clinicians this process may occur inadvertently scholars from various fields are increasingly stressing the importance of complementing the emphasis on operational criteria with thoughtful attention to the subjective and intersubjective elements involved in a thorough psychopathological evaluation this book aims at capturing the essence implications and full potential of the clinician s subjective experience in the diagnosis and treatment of mental disorders it gathers contributions from several different disciplines such as phenomenology neuroscience the cognitive sciences and psychoanalysis it also presents the development validation and clinical application of a psychometric instrument that reliably investigates the clinician s feelings thoughts and perceptions related to the clinical encounter this is the first collection of essays in english that deals directly with the philosophy of gianni vattimo from a purely critical perspective further establishing his rightful place in contemporary european philosophy vattimo who first came to prominence as the translator of gadamer s truth and method into italian is now considered to be more than a philosopher and prolific author as a former member of the european parliament 1999 2004 he is also a public intellectual this book takes up his call to advance the crucial active and affirmative engagement with thinking and society more than just interpretations of vattimo s thinking these essays are expressions of the new impetus given to hermeneutic philosophy by weak thought the term he coined for how we think now in the wake of nietzsche heidegger and gadamer the development of vattimo s thinking is reflected in the organization of the volume divided into three main parts hermeneutics and nihilism metaphysics and religion and politics and technology
